This quarter was rung by a band of under 18s in memory of Ruth Cursons, one of the Servers at All Saints, Leighton Buzzard, who tragically died on 1 September. The bells were also rung by Barry Eglesfield, Alan Marchbank, Alan Shepherd, Andrew Spencer, and Lynne Pugh, Jasmine Pugh, Sophia Pugh (All Saints Choristers). This was rung after some of the band had been attempting something a little more difficult at All Saints.

Alan and Barry walked to the pub at Linslade and never has Bob Doubles sounded so pleasant, as was "Shine, Jesus, Shine" sung at the funeral, although not one of Barry's favourite hymns.
